Sport II

When your heart climbs back up from your socks after you've reached the calm water below the scariest drop on the river, you'll be glad you invested in a NRS SPORT II. Designed to offer maximum benefits in performance and durability, the NRS SPORT II is ideal for both the serious river runner and the lazy floater who appreciates quality.

When we developed and refined the NRS SPORT II, our goal was to produce a river raft which would provide plenty of cargo space for full-scale expeditions, yet remain highly maneuverable, supple in tight corners, and high-riding when the rocks are near the surface. Since our name is on the raft, its toughness and durability were also of prime importance. We turned to Achilles of Japan to produce the SPORT; their quality material and excellent workmanship combined with our design to ensure the raft's handling and longevity.

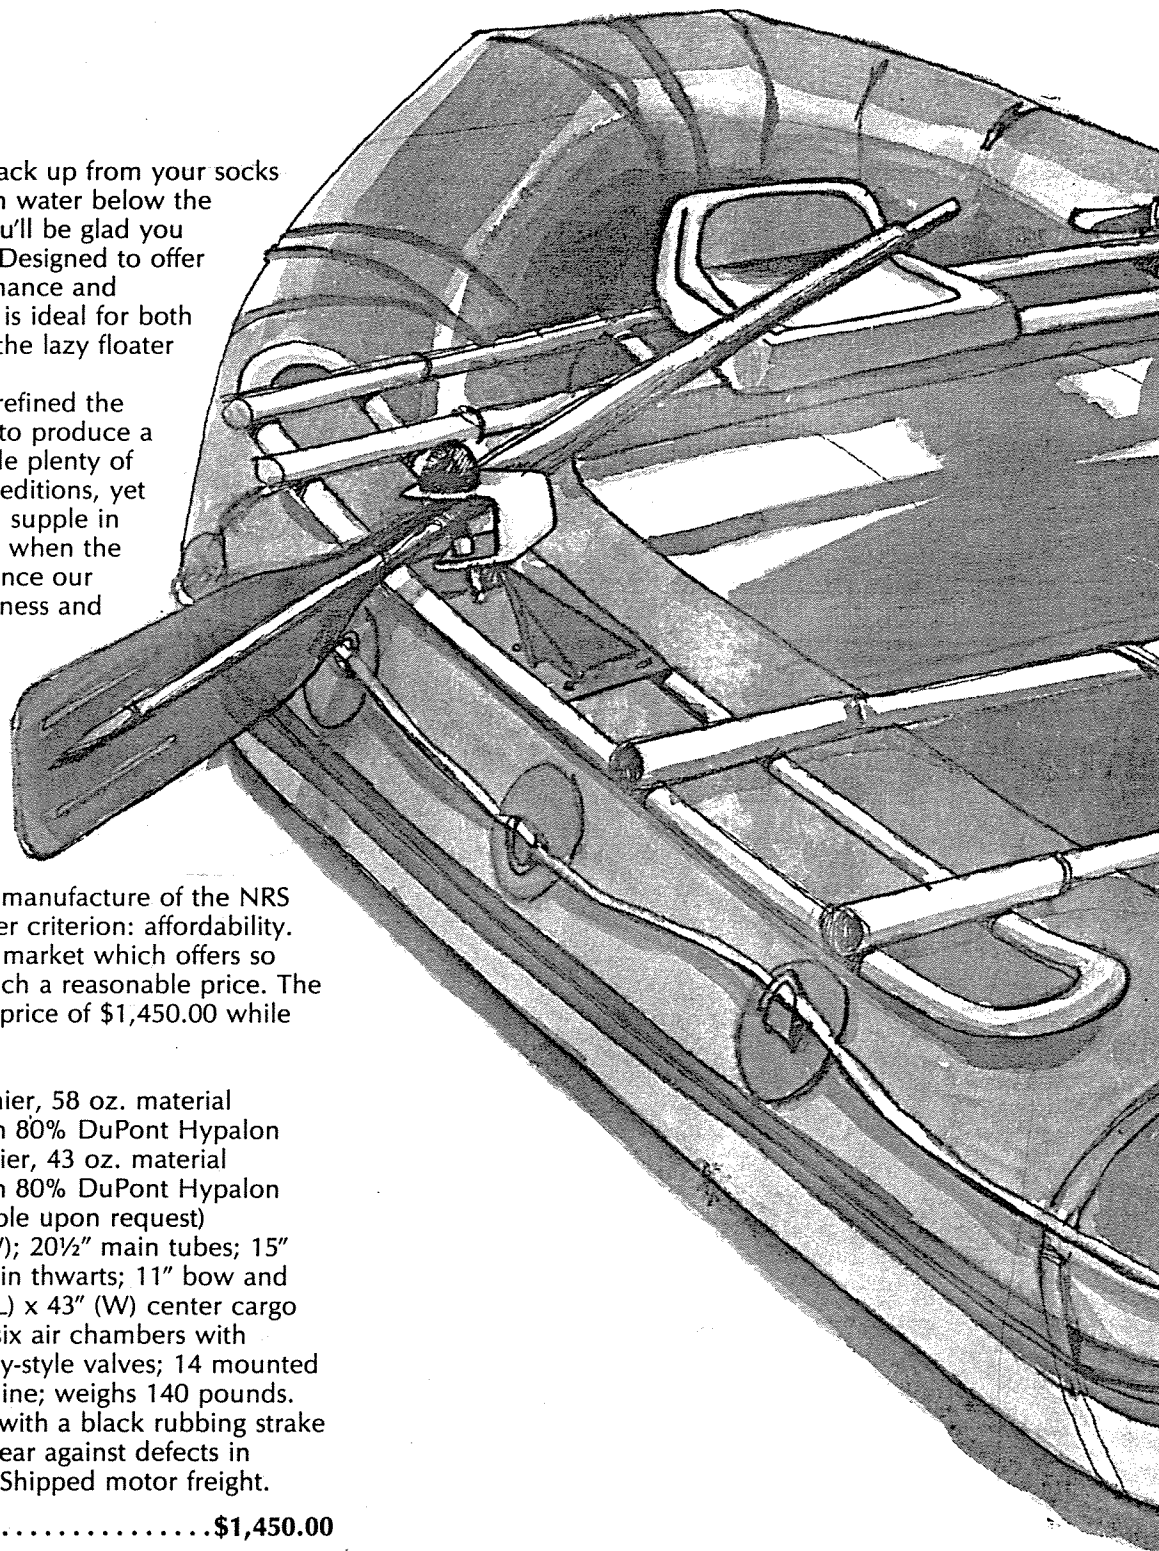

Best of all, the design and manufacture of the NRS SPORT II also stressed another criterion: affordability. There is no other raft on the market which offers so many desirable features at such a reasonable price. The Sport—still at our special '82 price of $1,450.00 while supplies last.

Achilles SV-126

The ACHILLES SV-126 has proven its worth on rivers all over America. Combining advanced design with meticulous workmanship, the SV-126 is an excellent boat at a reasonable price, and the one-year no-excuses guarantee proves that Achilles believes in its product.

The SV-126 is a distinctive salmon color with black trim, made of a 43 oz., 840 denier nylon material calendared with 80% Hypalon on the outside and 100% Neoprene on the inside. This produces the flexible, airtight, and wear-resistant fabric required to build a quality inflatable. Using this fabric, Achilles' skilled workers put together each SV-126 with care, using the latest manufacturing technology, to guarantee that you'll get a raft with a long and trouble-free life.

At 12'6" (L) and 5'10" (W), this sturdy raft is a most practical size for a number of uses: as a two-person fishing boat, a four-person paddle boat, or a two- or three-person rowing raft for day or overnight trips. The generous width makes this boat nice and stable, yet it maneuvers well because of the short waterline.

If you're in the market for a small, quality raft, consider the Achilles SV-126. At $200 off the 1982 catalog price, it's a great deal.

K-79 Tahiti

There's more than one way to get wet on the river, and the K-79 TAHITI has shown itself to be one of the most fun ways. The Tahiti offers the convenience of an inflatable (packing down to a compact 11" x 11" x 22" bundle) and the excitement and responsiveness of a canoe or kayak. The Tahiti's tricks can be mastered quickly since it's more responsive than a canoe and much more stable than a kayak.

Ways to play in the Tahiti are endless: its 380-pound carrying capacity will allow you and a friend access to a secluded picnic spot on the far side of the lake; its compactness and weight (only 21 pounds) will let it be packed- or flown-in to high mountain lakes and rivers; its toughness and durability (heavy gauge PVC material with electronically welded seams) combined with its lively handling characteristics will make it a pleasure to dance through the rapids.

Three separate air chambers and a built-in inflation gauge contribute to the Tahiti's safety; the high volume Boston valves make inflation quick and easy. The Tahiti measures 10'8" x 2'8" when inflated.

Best yet, it's one of the most inexpensive ways to get floating short of inflating your spare-tire innertube. Our Off-Season discount of Tahiti Paddler's Package includes a K-79 TAHITI, an A-41 Maxi Pump (plastic, medium volume foot pump for fast inflation), and the 8 ft. Mohawk Breakdown Paddle (light, sturdy aluminum and ABS plastic paddle with a two-piece shaft for easy transport and storage). Getting wet will never be more affordable.

NRS Otter

Have you ever watched an otter as it bobs around in the water, delighted by its quick, playful nature?

In designing the NRS OTTER, we had these same qualities in mind: a fun, responsive craft suitable for almost any water conditions, and one that an aspiring boatman on even the most limited budget can afford.

The NRS OTTER features an innovative design that maximizes desirable handling characteristics while minimizing construction costs. The parabolic bow chamber increases gradually in diameter from 17" to 24", giving the NRS OTTER the lively handling characteristics for which it's named. In addition, the rounded stern chamber is enlarged by 2" to help prevent swamping from behind by big waves even when a stern paddler's weight is added. The two inflated cross thwarts provide additional seating, rigidity, coating that makes the boat airtight and resistant to abrasion and weathering. The 3/16" polypropylene lifeline is secured by molded-in web reinforcements, and a 20 ft. bowline is secured to the 1 3/4" D-ring patch on the prow.

If price, and a taste for quality, has kept you from owning a raft before, this boat is made for you. Whether you want to pump up your adrenalin level as you paddle through some hairy rapids, or just drift, tease trout and bug bass, bask in the sun and search for crawfish, the NRS OTTER will make your outing a pleasure.

and buoyancy, and are formed as separate chambers before gluing into the boat to eliminate those hard-to-fix thwart seam leaks. The two main air chambers are formed at the front and back rather than side to side, because there's greater safety in this method of construction. Finally, all chambers have recessed military-style valves for quick inflation/deflation.

Other features that make a big difference in the NRS OTTER's durability and longevity are a reinforced 840 denier nylon fabric floor and a 420 denier nylon fabric in the main tubes, protected by a tough rubberized

DOMENSION: Lots of head room in this dome-style tent is the big plus...great if you hate being scrunched-up in an A-frame design tent. The DOMENSION measures a generous 47" x 72" (42" at the apex) and weighs only 5 lbs., 13 oz. The oversized door and rear window contribute to the roomy feeling of this tent, and they're bug-proofed with no-see-um netting. At the end of a hot, dirty day dragging boats over boulders, there's nothing quite like luxuriating in a warm shower. Though it might not be the Ritz, the SUN SHOWER does a good imitation. ## 74" Yakima Carrier

We're overstocked on the 74" YAKIMA CARRIER, so we're offering them at a special price this fall—only $54.00 (you save $10.00 over the '82 catalog price). The 74" YAKIMA CARRIER set includes two 1½" gold-anodized cross bars, four sets of nonslip Neoprene-coated "feet," and the patented Kevlok over-center tie-down system. The approximate load capacity of the 74" carrier is 300 lbs., so it's sturdy enough for two canoes or up to six kayaks (if you use the YAKIMA KAYAK STACKER #755 attachment). You can also add a set or two of the YAKIMA MULTI-POSTS (#760) and carry your paddles, skis or sailboards on the Yakima carrier as well. And remember, the YAKIMA CARRIERS work equally well on cars with or without drip rails!

Water Sack

Have you ever cursed one of those big plastic jerrycans or bulky water-jugs as you struggled to move it in and out of the boat, or sloshed more wet than you wanted all over your granola? With the WATER SACK, those problems will be a thing of the past.

This handy, lightweight, collapsible container can hold two full gallons of your favorite beverage, and the WATER SACK's spigot is designed for easy one-handed delivery of any amount of liquid you choose. Not thirsty? Use the WATER SACK as a shower: just fill it up, set it in the sun for a couple of hours, and you'll have a warm, refreshing shower ready. Also, if you want a little extra comfort while camping, fill up the WATER SACK with air or water and have a comfy pillow for a great night's rest.

The WATER SACK's tough double-protection construction (a durable outer sack of oxford cloth over an inner bag of double-layered polyethylene) makes it able to stand up to the scrapes and thumps of both river and campground. The inner bag is larger than the outer bag, so you can't burst a seam from overfilling. It can also be safely filled (leaving some room for expansion) and placed in the freezer, providing ice or ice-cold water some sweaty afternoon portaging around the rapids.

At our special low price of $4.95 it's a piece of equipment you'll be glad to have with you.

Dear River Runner,

Well, another summer of sun, bugs, and big rapids seems to have slipped past, and back here in the shop we're swapping stories about huge haystacks, awesome drops, and who flopped off the raft. We're also taking stock of the warehouse after our sales season (an excellent one, thanks to you) and are able to offer you a few special deals on some fine products. These products include some that are familiar to you from our past catalog, as well as a few that will be brand-new for 1983.

Whether you're an experienced river rat, just learning, or just yearning, I guarantee you'll find something here to please your sense of style and performance, as well as your pocketbook. A lot of these items would make great Christmas gifts and could help spur you towards planning and preparing next summer's river trips. In the middle of winter it can be great to get a reminder of summer's heat, just as a snowbank on the Salmon in August would be a real relief.

See you on the river,

Bill Parks

Blue Puma Sweatshirt

When the first of the new BLUE PUMA SWEATSHIRTS came into our shop, they were so popular we instituted thumb-wrestling matches to see who'd get to wear them. This comfortable, attractive garment is made of 12-oz. Antron nylon pile: a warm, lightweight, fast-drying fabric. When you're swamped by a stern-wave or otherwise soaked, just wring out your Blue Puma Sweatshirt, twirl it around your head a few times, and presto! it's ready to keep you cozy again.

Similar in styling to Blue Puma's popular paddling sweater, but with full-length sleeves and a slightly roomier cut, the BLUE PUMA SWEATSHIRT also features a convenient handwarmer pouch for thawing frozen hands on a cold morning. Great for floaters and boaters of all kinds, it's also perfect for a host of other outdoor sports, from cold morning jogging to cross-country skiing, and it's stylish enough for a night of partying. Comes in Royal Blue with Navy trim in men's chest sizes S (34" to 36"), M (38" to 40"), L (42" to 44"), and XL (46" +).

Priced at a Special Introductory price of $40.00, it's a top-quality present for yourself or a friend that shouldn't be missed.
